

LINKING POLICY - SPONTIME

Updated: February 1, 2019

Spontime will allow any organization to link to our home page, to our publications or to any information about our Services as long as the link:

- Is not misleading in any way.
- Does not imply endorsement, sponsorship, or approval of the party linking to Spontime or their products/services.
- Does not reflect unfavorably on Spontime or on our businesses.
- Is used in the context of general information or is used in an editorial, such as in a newspaper or other publication which will further the mission of our organization.
- Does not provide any misrepresentation nor false information pertaining to Spontime, its services or its products.
- Does not contain any distasteful, controversial, or offensive content.
- The organization cannot have a record with Spontime that is unsatisfactory.

If you would like to link to any of the Spontime Services or the website you must comply with these guidelines as follows:

- a. You may not incorporate any of the Spontime site into your site for example by creating other browser or border environments around Spontime's content. You may only link to this site, or any of Spontime's sites. You must provide an underlined link on your website to the home page. This is the only Authorized link. www.spontime.co is the only link that is authorized and it will link to the websites home page which means the main web page of the website which typically includes a table of contents for the rest of the site. No other links to the site are permitted to be used without first getting written permission from Spontime.
- b. By linking to Spontime, you are acknowledging and agreeing that all of the Spontime marks, the content that appears on the Spontime Website, the design of the site and all of the Licensed Marks belong to Spontime other than as set forth herein.

- c. Spontime is not liable nor responsible for any of the content that appears on your website. You also agree that you will defend and indemnify Spontime against any and all claims that arise out of or that are based on your website.
- d. You will not link to any of the Spontime websites or Services if your website contains any material that could be considered distasteful, harassing, obscene, offensive, libelous, or criminal in any way; nor any material that infringes upon, advocates the infringement of others, or violates any third party rights.
- e. You may not use the Authorized link to any of the Spontime pages or Service in any manner that would suggest that Spontime has any type of affiliation, relationship, or endorses your website, your products, or your services.
- f. Your website cannot present any false information about Spontime, or any of the products or services that we offer.
- g. You cannot make use of any of the logos, names, slogans, designs, trademarks, or any of the service marks, including any words or codes identifying Spontime, such as meta tags or any other information that is used by any search engines or other tools used to identify or select sites without first getting Spontime's written consent for each and every use.
- h. Your website cannot contain any content that could be seen as controversial, distasteful, or offensive.
- i. The use of unauthorized links is prohibited as well as the framing of any information that is contained on any of the Spontime websites, or any portion of any of the sites without first getting written permission from Spontime. You may also not cache, mirror, or archive any of the web pages, nor any portions of the webpages. Any unauthorized link will be deactivated by Spontime. All liability for any material that is on any other website which contains any link to this Site is disclaimed by Spontime.
- j. If at any time, you would like to use, redistribute, frame, or reprint any of the content that is found on any of the Spontime websites, other than as permitted, herein, you must first request permission by sending an email to Spontime at info@spontime.co . When you make your request, please make sure that you include your email address, telephone number, and your full name as well as the name of your company, the address of the website where you are proposing the use, all details about any framing activities or contemplated linking, as well as the content or the address of the webpage that you would like to use.

Contact information

If you have any questions about Spontime's Linking Policy, please contact us at policy@spontime.co .